

Miranda Lescaze

Miranda is the Director of VT EPSCoR's Center for Workforce Development and Diversity. In this role she coordinates the center's outreach programs including the Streams Project. Miranda has an extensive background in watershed research and coordination having served as the Technical Coordinator of the Lake Champlain Basin Program as well as several watershed associations. She holds a M.S. degree in Water Resources from UVM. She is also a certified educator in the state of Vermont.