

WRUV 90.1 FM, owned and operated by the University of Vermont, is a non-profit, community oriented radio station that has been broadcasting out of Burlington since the early 1960s. We strive to provide our listening audience with an eclectic mix of music. From Country to Hip-Hop, Opera to Electronic, Jazz to Punk Rock, WRUV presents a variety of musical genres, as well as news and educational content. The station follows a rule of originality; programming presented by 90.1 is unique. Often, the same programming cannot be heard anywhere else. For these reasons, we have dubbed WRUV Burlington's Better Alternative.
